

DHP Research Networking and Public Engagement Prize 2022: Application Form

The DHP Research Networking and Public Engagement Prize seeks to support DHP members to widen their research networks and/or engage stakeholders, public and patients in research. This can be through hosting a networking or engagement event in an area of health psychology. The purpose of the prize is to stimulate discussions about health psychology research, such as with other disciplines, the public and/or other stakeholders.

Assessment criteria

We will be assessing applications for this prize against the areas below:

- Importance of the research area for health psychology
- Clearly defined goals for the event
- Approach / activities undertaking that promote the development and maintenance of networks and partnerships
- Clearly proposed outcomes that show the potential impact of the event for disseminating and engaging others in health psychology research, ideally to improve psychological knowledge and understanding.

It is expected that grant holder would write an article for Health Psychology Update or the DHP Newsletter, reporting on the event (for example, describing its main themes, content and any salient outcomes or conclusions). Submission of the draft article should be no more than six months after the seminar has been held.
