

DHP Research Networking and Public Engagement Prize 2022

The DHP Research Networking and Public Engagement Prize is a new prize which seeks to support DHP members to widen their research networks and/or engage stakeholders, public and patients in research through hosting a networking event (webinar) in an area of health psychology. The purpose of the prize is to stimulate discussion between researchers in health psychology, other disciplines, the public and other stakeholders.

Assessment criteria

We will be assessing applications for this prize against the areas below.

- 1) Importance of the research area for health psychology
- 2) Clearly defined goals for the event
- 3) Creative interactive activities that will foster sustainable networks for the future
- 4) Clearly proposed outcomes that show the potential impact of the event for facilitating research in health psychology to improve psychological knowledge and understanding.
- 5) Consideration of issues relating to social inequalities and sustainability

As a condition of this prize, it is expected that grant holder would write an article for Health Psychology Update or the DHP Newsletter, reporting on the event (for example, describing its main themes, content and any salient outcomes or conclusions). Submission of the draft article should be no more than 3 months after the seminar has been held.
