

Dr Sofia Stathi

Dr Sofia Stathi is Associate Professor of Social Psychology and the Lead for the Centre for Inequalities at the University of Greenwich. Sofia's research focuses on intergroup relations, (challenging) prejudice, collective action, and social ideology. She uses predominantly quantitative methods to conduct basic and applied research that examines processes relating to majority-minority relations and social change. Sofia has co-authored a monograph and an edited volume on intergroup contact; has published various articles in outlets such as the European Journal of Social Psychology, the Journal of Experimental Social Psychology and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology; and has received funding from research bodies such as the British Academy, the Economic and Social Research Council, and Catedra Real Madrid.

Sofia has been a Committee Member since 2020 and is currently an Events Officer.

You can follow Sofia on Twitter @DrSofiaStathi or learn more about her work on her University website <https://www.gre.ac.uk/people/rep/faculty-of-education-and-health/sofia-stathi>