psychological society
promoting excellence in psychology

AS A BPS MEMBER YOU'RE ONE OF 70,000 PEOPLE UNITED BY A BURNING PASSION FOR PSYCHOLOGY.

Our membership is diverse but we all share a love for psychology and the way it improves both the lives of individuals and the way the world works.

Our members influence Government policy, improve the nation's wellbeing, work to improve working conditions and fight for mental health. We're recognised around the world as one of the leading authorities of psychology. Employers and academic institutions know the BPS marque is a guarantee of top quality.

You make us stronger - renew your membership today.

AS A MEMBER OF BPS YOU'RE ENTITLED TO A WIDE RANGE OF BENEFITS WHICH HELP YOU IN YOUR STUDIES AND YOUR CAREER. SUCH AS:

THE PSYCHOLOGIST

Our official magazine in print, online and on the app. It's released every month and contains the latest news and thought-provoking articles. With contributions from leading psychologists, it's the best way to stay up to date with everything happening in psychology.

MEMBER NETWORKS

Being a psychologist is better with others. Our member networks are set up for you to easily communicate and collaborate with other psychologists. It's a great way to further your professional and scientific interests.

CONFERENCES AND EVENTS

We organise and run hundreds of psychology events for our members across the country every year. These include our National Conferences, as well as seminars, talks, workshops and webinars on a huge range of subjects.

BPS JOURNALS

We publish eleven academic journals, covering all areas of the field from Clinical Psychology to Mathematical and Statistical Psychology. With a BPS membership you get exclusive online access to all of these incredibly useful resources, including back issues.

EBSCO ONLINE DATABASES

EBSCO is the world's leading provider of research databases and e-journals. We've linked with them to give BPS members access to over 500 of these journals and databases, which cover psychology and a range of useful adjacent disciplines.
